Dear Mr. Hanson:

The Republican State Leadership Committee (“RSLC”) is an incorporated political action committee registered under Section 527 of the Internal Revenue Code. RSLC fully complies with all applicable federal and state campaign finance and ethics laws, including applicable donor disclosure requirements.

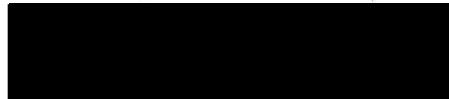

In order to assure you that your proposed contribution for the support of RSLC will be used in a manner that is consistent with restrictions on political activity under federal, state, and local law, RSLC further confirms to you as follows, in accordance with our general operating policy:

- * RSLC is organized under Section 527 (“Political Organization”) of the Internal Revenue Code and registers and reports subject to the laws of those states in which it is active. RSLC is not registered with the Federal Election Commission and does not engage in any federal election-related activity.
- * The IRS defines a political organization as “organized and operated primarily to accept contributions and make expenditures for the purpose of influencing the selection, nomination, election, or appointment of any individual to Federal, State, or local public office or office in a political organization, or the election of Presidential electors. Political organizations include political party committees, Federal, State and local candidate committees and other political committees such as political action committees (PACs).”

The RSLC confirms that you have not directed any specific use for your proposed contribution, including for any independent expenditure or electioneering communication, and you are not involved in any allocation, contribution or expenditure decisions made by RSLC.
