The Honorable Ann Marie Buerkle
Acting Chairman and Commissioner
U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission
4330 East West Highway
Bethesda, MD 20814

Dear Acting Chairman Buerkle:

We are writing to request documents and briefings about information received by the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) in connection with injuries and deaths caused by inclined sleep products.

On May 31, 2018, CPSC published a “Consumer Alert,” which stated:

Inclined sleep products are bassinet-like products with an inclined back to elevate the baby’s head and torso. There are many different styles of infant inclined sleep products available for infants and newborns. These can include frame-type, semi-rigid and compact inclined sleep products. CPSC is aware of infant deaths associated with inclined sleep products. Babies have died after rolling over in these sleep products.<sup>1</sup>

More than a year later, after Consumer Reports published an investigation on April 8, 2019, finding that the Rock ‘n Play was tied to at least 32 infant deaths, Mattel recalled the Rock n’ Play and other inclined sleep products and accessories.<sup>2</sup>

The Committee requests that you produce the following documents by August 27, 2019, covering the period from January 1, 2011, to the present:

1. All documents and communications between CPSC and manufacturers or retailers of inclined sleep products, including documents and communications related to the safety or marketing of inclined sleep products;

3. All documents and communications related to injuries associated with the Rock 'n Play and other inclined sleepers, including but not limited to injuries or deaths resulting from falls, suffocation, or strangulation;
4. All documents and communications related to CPSC's May 31, 2018, Consumer Alert, including drafts and edits to the Consumer Alert;
5. All documents and communications related to any formal or informal investigation by CPSC of inclined sleep products;
6. All documents and communications related to whether CPSC should recall or issue warnings on all inclined sleep products;
7. All case files related to the recall of inclined sleep products; and
8. All documents and communications related to the safety of inclined sleep products, including the development of standards related to inclined sleep products.

The Committee on Oversight and Reform is the principal oversight committee of the House of Representatives and has broad authority to investigate "any matter" at "any time" under House Rule X.

An attachment to this letter provides additional instructions for responding to the Committee's request. If you have any questions regarding this request, please contact Committee staff at (202) 225-5051.

17. If a date or other descriptive detail set forth in this request referring to a document is inaccurate, but the actual date or other descriptive detail is known to you or is otherwise apparent from the context of the request, produce all documents that would be responsive as if the date or other descriptive detail were correct.

18. This request is continuing in nature and applies to any newly-discovered information. Any record, document, compilation of data, or information not produced because it has not been located or discovered by the return date shall be produced immediately upon subsequent location or discovery.
19. All documents shall be Bates-stamped sequentially and produced sequentially.
20. Two sets of each production shall be delivered, one set to the Majority Staff and one set to the Minority Staff. When documents are produced to the Committee on Oversight and Reform, production sets shall be delivered to the Majority Staff in Room 2157 of the Rayburn House Office Building and the Minority Staff in Room 2105 of the Rayburn House Office Building.
