Subject: Demonstration Activity

Shannon and Veena,

For your awareness, there is a demonstration scheduled to occur at the U.S. Capitol at 4 pm today by the group Peoples Watch in support of the Green New Deal. Both the Sunrise Movement and ShutDown DC are involved in the demonstration and have been in the area of the Capitol for most of the day.

While this demonstration has not mentioned or shown any interest toward API, it is believed that the Thursday, September 27th, House vote on the bipartisan infrastructure bill could impact further spontaneous rallies and demonstrations, which according to Sunrise Movement is a "huge legislative week for climate, workers rights, and so much more."

Mentions about fossil fuel companies were found on several social media pages. However, no direct mention of API was detected while using our specific search terms. ShutDownDC also continues to mention the organized demonstration for Oct.11-15th.

We will continue to monitor these events and pass the information along for your awareness. As always, we will contact you if there is any concerning or threatening content related to API.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let us know.

All the best,
