particularly in the energy area. He was one of the members of CARB's advisory committee on California's GHG cap-and-trade program.

We would anticipate that each panelist would speak for about 10 minutes. At the conclusion of all of the presentations, we anticipate a robust (but moderated) Q&A session involving the panelists and, if time allows, members of the audience. Total time for this session would be about two hours: Tuesday, June 30, between 8:30 and 10:30 am.

I'm looking for help in finding a speaker for the third topic – challenges in transforming a petroleum fuels supplier into a broader energy supplier. Issues for this topic could include technical/regulatory/market challenges, ways to reduce the carbon footprint associated with petroleum fuels (without eliminating petroleum fuels), becoming a multi-fuel (or multi-energy-resource) provider, and other issues that keep one awake at night. This is a national conference, and so the focus need not be on California. If you know of anyone at BP who might be interested in this as a forum for presenting/discussing their plans, please let me know.
