Ken:

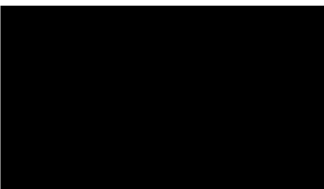

All is well with me, especially following an enjoyable weekend with some out-of-town visitors. One advantage of living in DC is that people often travel here for events and are eager to tag on a bit of touring as well. Luckily we have a spare bedroom! Hope all is well with you too, and thanks for your note.

I understand that our policy team in London is replying to UCS regarding the questionnaire. In the meantime, we are still working on finalizing dates and schedule for Paul's trip over and we'll get back to you if we can arrange something on this trip. What we would have in mind would be a discussion focused on carbon policy, building on some of the Partnership for Responsible Growth sessions we've attended, rather than a meeting focused on the survey process.

Best regards,

Bob Stout

Hi Bob, hope you are well. I haven't heard back from you on the idea of meeting with UCS re our company evaluation process, but I checked with my team and we would be happy to talk when you are ready. Please let me know.

Thanks for your note, Ken, and sorry for my delay in reply. Just catching up on an overfull inbox – suspect that's a common malady for most of us!

I am doing well and hope you are too. I've had a very busy times in DC over the last few weeks and am getting ready to travel a bit over the next couple weeks. But all good. As you may have heard from Bob Sussman, we were up at Princeton for a fascinating and highly pertinent set of presentations from the participants in the Carbon Mitigation initiative that BP funds there. We were chatting and he mentioned that he knows you well. Bob is a great guy.

Thanks for your acknowledgment on ALEC. We do regularly assess our membership in policy groups to determine whether to continue, and in this case decided not to renew with ALEC based on that assessment.

As I said then, I really enjoyed being on the panel with you and felt a real sense of mutual respect for the roles each of us plays in the discussion over policy issues that really matter. We will obviously differ on some issues, but I am enough of an optimist to believe that if folks like us set a good example by engaging vigorously while listening generously to each other we can make a difference.

Hope you have a great spring and that our paths may cross again soon.

Best,

Bob Stout

Hi Bob, I hope you are well and enjoying springtime. I have been meaning to write to congratulate BP on exiting from ALEC. It was the right thing to do, and if we played even a small role in that decision by making that ask at the Kennedy School symposium, then I am very pleased.

Best,

Ken
