The Honorable John Kasich
Governor, State of Ohio
Riffe Center, 30th Floor
77 South High Street
Columbus, OH 43215-6117

Dear Governor Kasich:

The Committee on Oversight and Government Reform is currently examining the roles of state and federal governments in sharing the costs of the Medicaid program. As part of this review, I am writing to request information about your state's decision to expand Medicaid services under the Affordable Care Act to the residents of your state.

When Congress passed the Affordable Care Act, it offered states the ability to expand Medicaid services for their non-elderly constituents with families below 138% of the Federal poverty line. Congress offered to pay 100% of these costs for the first three years, declining gradually to 90% by 2020, with states paying only 10% of these costs. According to the Center for Medicaid and CHIP Services:

These critical health coverage programs serve millions of families, children, pregnant women, adults without children and also seniors and people living with disabilities. In addition to covering services like doctor's visits, prescription drugs, and preventive care, Medicaid helps seniors and people with disabilities receive long term services and supports in their communities as well as in nursing homes. Together, these programs provide an important foundation for maintaining the health of our nation.¹

Democratic governors have consistently supported expanding Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, but Republican governors have disagreed among themselves with widely differing explanations. For example:

¹ Center for Medicaid and CHIP Services, Message from the CMCS Director (online at www.medicaid.gov/About-Us/About-Us.html) (accessed July 27, 2014).

- Texas Governor Rick Perry: Explaining his opposition to expanding Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, Governor Perry stated: “It’s like putting 1,000 more people on the Titanic when you knew what was going to happen.”²
- Florida Governor Rick Scott: Explaining his opposition to expanding Medicaid for the residents of his state, Governor Scott stated that “since Florida is legally allowed to opt out, that’s the right decision for our citizens.”³ He added: “It will be a big job-killer because it will cost too much.”⁴
- North Carolina Governor Pat McCrory: Explaining his opposition to expanding Medicaid in his state, Governor McCrory stated: “I will not sacrifice quality care for the people truly in need, nor risk further budget overruns by expanding an already broken system.”⁵

In contrast to your Republican colleagues, you have supported expanding Medicaid for your constituents, stating: “It’s going to save lives.” You added: “It’s going to help people, and you tell me what’s more important than that.”⁶

The data obtained by the Committee indicates that by expanding Medicaid in your state, you will be providing medical coverage to approximately 446,000 more residents,⁷ adding 54,000 new jobs through 2017,⁸ and receiving an additional $53 billion in federal funds over 2013 to 2022.⁹

Many healthcare providers in your state support the expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act. For example, the Ohio Hospital Association stated:

By seizing this opportunity, the Governor is helping address the daily challenges faced by thousands of hardworking Ohio families who can't get health insurance and the resulting unsustainable impact on our economy and health care delivery system.¹⁰

In order to better understand the basis for your support, I request that you provide by August 22, 2014, copies of any state-specific analyses, studies, or reports that you ordered, requested, or relied on to inform your decision, including specific state-based data relating to the following:

- (1) the amounts of federal funding that your state would either receive or forego over the next ten years as a result of your decision;
- (2) the projected costs to cover uncompensated care that your state would either pay for itself or receive federal funds to cover over the next ten years as a result of your decision;
- (3) the number of direct and indirect jobs that would either be created or foregone over the next ten years as a result of your decision; and
- (4) the number of residents in your state that would either receive or forego additional preventative services and other medical care over the next ten years as a result of your decision.

Thank you for your cooperation with this request.

Sincerely,

Elijah E. Cummings
